

Dance star Louie takes time out to pose with gym-goers

OVER-the-top television celebrity Louie Spence has been waltzing around Harlow this week as he films for a new show.

The former professional dancer, who starred in a number of hit West End shows before switching to a career in TV, has been photographed at various locations around the town.

It is believed he is taking part in a new reality show in which celebrities feature as cab drivers.

Kimberlee Perry, an instructor at ((Bounce)) Fit Body in Paringdon Road, said: "Louie came to the gym and took part in one of our trampoline classes for the show. He spent a lot of time with us and we had a wild time. He was good value and really excitable."

And Scott Simpson, who runs performing arts school Makin' Steps in Potter Street, said: "He visited our street dance class last week. He is as he seems on TV, quite flamboyant. He is really nice and we had a laugh."

Although the production company Knickerbockerglory TV was keeping tightlipped about the nature of the programme, Louie confirmed on Twitter he was filming, and included a photo of himself taken outside the office of Metro Cabs.

Funding crunch as schools forced to increase capacity and cut staff

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TWO primary schools in Harlow will almost double in size over the next two years to meet the growing demand for places.

Longwood Primary School and Kingsmoor Academy have both been earmarked for expansion, with 210 places added to each. A new primary school at Newhall in 2018 will add a further 420 places.

The news comes just a week after the town's biggest academy trust announced it would be cutting support staff to help balance the books.

Burnt Mill Academy Trust – which runs Burnt Mill, Cooks Spinney, Freshwaters and Little Parndon in Harlow, Roydon Primary and Forest Hall in Stansted – has launched a consultation over plans to reduce the number of support workers it employs, including teaching assistants, dinner ladies, cleaners and caretakers.

Redundancies

A figure for the number of redundancies has not yet been announced, but talks are taking place with all staff and unions.

Murray Sackwild, secretary of the Harlow and Epping Forest branch of the National Union of Teachers, said schools were having to make "fairly savage cuts" in an effort to maintain current provision and warned further cuts in Harlow are inevitable.

"That is an unacceptable situation," he said.

"Because academies operate on a smaller financial scale to local authorities there are no contingency funds and no opportunity for short-term deficit budgeting."

Youngsters get a taste for performing on the West End stage

A DREAM came true for youngsters from a Harlow performing arts school when they stepped onto the stage of a West End theatre.

The group of students from the Pauline Quirke Academy, which is based at Harlow Playhouse, were taking part in a musical for an audience of family and friends at Her Majesty's Theatre in Haymarket.

The show, called The Lazy Ace, also featured students from the Bradley Stoke and Newcastle academies.

As part of their curriculum, all PQA students are given the opportunity to experience the thrill and buzz of appearing on the stage of a top London theatre.

The Lazy Ace is set among the hustle and bustle of the casino scene on the Las Vegas Strip in the 1950s.

The youngsters were given the freedom to demonstrate their imaginative and creative flair, from the casting and staging to the choreography.

Lee Ellaway, principal of the Harlow academy, said: "They should be so proud of all their hard work leading up to the show."

"Their professionalism, their confidence on stage and how their lines were delivered to perfection resembles the highest West End stage performer. Above all, they had fun and absolutely loved performing to a sell-out crowd."

More help needed for mental health services

Charity welcomes funding plan but says it does not go far enough

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

MENTAL health groups have welcomed this week's announcement that £1bn a year is to be invested in services but have called for more to be done.

On Monday the Government outlined plans on or a 24/7 emergency service for people suffering a mental health crisis, with funding due to begin in 2020.

Sarah Huggett, communications coordinator for the mental health support charity Mind in West Essex, said: "There is definitely more that still needs to be done."

"This issue is not just about money. Funding has to go to the right places and it must go into both primary and secondary services."

"There is hope but we can only speculate for the next five years as to how it may turn out."

Health secretary Jeremy Hunt announced the plans after a survey carried out by Mind revealed a quarter of people with severe mental health problems need more support than is currently on offer.

The charity, which has been working with the BBC all this week on a series of programmes to explore the issue, runs a drop-in service in Harlow and arranges appointments for people experiencing mental health problems.

Yesterday (Wednesday) Mrs Huggett was interviewed on BBC Essex during which she spoke about her own experiences of overcoming a mental health problem and the difficulties facing services.

"We are not getting the funding we need," she said. "We are let down in some areas and at the moment fundraising is huge for us. We had bursaries but those were used straight away and that money is gone now."

She added: "Breaking down stigma about mental health is a problem. From our experience the biggest challenge is reaching out to men."

The issue of mental health was discussed by Harlow Council last week when former chairman Ian Beckett proposed appointing a mental health champion to promote awareness and understanding of the cause.

This week Cllr Beckett said: "I cautiously welcome the Government's announcement as this shows at last a major health problem is being taken seriously."

"Whilst there needs to be a proper strategic approach, it is vital to involve local mental health and general practitioners, those with mental health problems as well as their family and friends who are often the first and frontline supporters."

'Garden town' status bid for homes and transport

Local campaigners lobby minister for investment package

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CALL has been made for the Government to transform Harlow into a "garden town" providing new homes, better transport and roads.

With £420million of funding allocated to a Public Health England hub and the development of the Enterprise Zone, Harlow's strategic location and economic potential has already attracted Government investment.

On Monday, housing minister Brandon Lewis met with MP Robert Halfon and Harlow Council leader Jon Clempner.

"It is really quite an ambitious project," said Mr Lewis. "Garden towns are about getting a more state backing for housing, and opportunities for development and for better transport.

Ambition

"Harlow is a town on the rise with a real appetite to grow and we're well placed to support that ambition. I'm confident we can continue to drive the town forward and build the homes local families want and need."

The meeting was an opportunity for town politicians to lobby the Government for garden town status. The concept would extend the town to provide more homes and transport improvements.

It has yet to be decided how and when this would be achieved.

Malcolm Morley, chief executive of Harlow Council, and Andrew Johnson, leader of the district authority's Conservative group, also met with the minister at the Civic Centre.

The politicians then met to discuss housing with James and Rachel Cato,

VISIT: Housing minister Brandon Lewis, centre, and Harlow MP Robert Halfon are interviewed by Star reporter William Mata residents of Tanyard Place, and Mark Henderson, chief executive of Home Group, which built the development off First Avenue.

Garden town status would also bring in more Government funds for infrastructure and community amenities, such as roads, healthcare and schools to help the community cope with expansion.

Cllr Clempner said: "This is pushing the issue of growth right up the agenda but we need to address the infrastructure issues first, which is a concern for residents and businesses alike. We need to plan for growth, rather than growth just happening without the right infrastructure in place, like transport improvements and new health facilities.

"We will continue to make the case with Government to get the investment that Harlow needs."

The politicians also discussed the possibility of the inclusion of Harlow Town station in the new London rail network Crossrail 2.

Mr Halfon added: "We have been told by Transport for London that Harlow is being seriously considered for the franchise.

"We feel more housing could help achieve this and also help with town centre regeneration. Without more housing we are not going to be able to do anything about the town centre.

"For many reasons, housing is one of the biggest issues for residents and for the future of Harlow."

Man suffers eye injury in assault by gang of teens

THE victim of a gang attack suffered a serious injury to one of his eyes after he was struck in the face with a child's scooter.

The assault took place after the 27-year-old man had been involved in a confrontation with the group of teenagers outside the Tesco store in Church Langley on Friday evening.

As he walked away he was followed by the group of between 10 and 15 youngsters. They were then involved in a further disturbance in the road at the junction of Hadley Grange and Kiln Lane.

It was during this second altercation that the man was struck on the head with the black and orange scooter.

He was taken to hospital where he received treatment for the injury to his eye, which was severely swollen.

PC Jo Snell, who is investigating the attack, said: "I am keen to speak to anyone who witnessed the disturbance, saw the teenagers in the area at the time or can identify any of those involved."

Described

The youths, one of whom was riding a bike, are believed to be in the 14-16 age range. One is described as black, 5ft 6ins tall, of skinny build with an afro haircut and spotty complexion. He wore a black jacket and jogging bottoms, while another is white, about 5ft 6ins tall, and wore a blue puffy-style jacket.

The assault took place at about 9.45pm. Anyone with information is asked to call Harlow CID on the Essex Police non-emergency 101 number or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

We must all pull together

SIR There have been many tears shed throughout Essex Police recently following the outcome of another round of cuts, meaning that many PCSOs now know they are losing their jobs.

At the same time there are still people writing to the local press to complain about policing issues. In my view it's time they, the complainants, had a reality check.

Firstly, the reduction in police officers and staff is the result of the economic downturn and the actions of government as they try to balance the books. It is not the fault of the Police and Crime Commissioner, Chief Constable and others within the force.

It is as it is and neither you or I can change it at the present time. It is not down to somebody else, we all have to pull together to try to make a difference and this is a good opportunity for people to start, or to join, Neighbourhood Watch, helping the depleted emergency services to do their best with the resources available to them.

We all moan about parking issues but tend to forget that most of our towns and villages were built before the advent of the motor car or indeed the growth of our dependency on vehicles.

It is clear the problem is often escalated by the selfish and inconsiderate behaviour of some drivers who park and obstruct pavements, junctions, driveways, school entrances, pedestrian crossings and in other dangerous ways.

As a nation we need to educate these drivers but unfortunately aren't they just part of a wider problem? Much of this stems from the lack of respect and consideration for others, the lowering of acceptable standards of behaviour and other factors that seem to influence the thoughtlessness and apathy that so often surrounds us.

It is obvious that one of the major factors, that contribute to the ongoing issues around parking is the lack of foresight by town planners in years gone by. However, probably, like me, their crystal ball broke before they could predict the future.

Our police have no magic answers and often insufficient

I'm happy to live in Harlow

SIR I would like to know if anyone else is sick and tired of people criticising Harlow and its people.

During the past week I have overheard a conversation where someone was asking another man how his house move had gone and then said "well at least you're out of Harlow".

I wouldn't mind but the man who said it has never lived here in his life so has no idea what it's like here anyway.

And today I was browsing in a charity shop. I picked up an item with a Jane Norman label and was told by a member of staff that it was not supposed to be for sale in the Harlow store because things with labels of that calibre are supposed to be sent to their Loughton or Debden branches. She said that it had been put there by mistake.

What an insult to the people of Harlow. Are we not worthy of such luxuries?

I have worked very hard all my life and still do. I am very proud of what I have achieved and to be able to live where I do in a very modest house. I have lived in Harlow for 25 years, made some very good friends and am very happy here.

Despite what some people think, we do not all still belong in a Dickens novel.

Sandra Davies

Have we lost all respect?

SIR Having lost the Great in Great Britain, have we now lost respect for our fellow man?

I recently had the sad duty of attending a funeral and whilst sitting in the limousine I was astounded, dismayed and totally enraged by the amount of disrespect shown for the cortege.

My parents brought me up to stand still and bow my head as a mark of respect should a funeral procession pass me, a practice I have passed on to my children.

What did I recently experience? In separate incidents during the short journey to the crematorium no fewer than four cars tried to come between the funeral procession, including a driver who did her utmost to come between the hearse and the limousine as we drove around a roundabout and a pedestrian too busy on his mobile phone to realise that the two cars he was walking between were actually a hearse and funeral limousine.

How rude.
Sadly, there is nothing great about our country any more. Residents of Harlow, are you really that engrossed in your own life that the art of respect is totally diminished now as well? Shame on you.

Linda Jones
Altham Grove, Harlow

Enjoy football at grassroots

SIR At a time when supporters of Premier League football clubs up and down the country are protesting about the rise in ticket prices, it could be time for them to start looking a little closer to home for their Saturday afternoon football fix.

The non-league scene is packed with clubs eager to welcome new fans, none more so than at Harlow Town FC.

The much talked about, and now thankfully scrapped, £77 match ticket at Liverpool FC could have gone halfway to buying a season ticket to watch Harlow at the start of the season.

For £20 you can get admission to the match, bring an under 16 for a pound, enjoy a beer and a burger and even have change left over to pick up a souvenir from the club shop should you wish. That same £20 would barely cover the cost of transport to get into London to see one of the so-called big clubs.

Last Saturday Harlow Town won their 12th consecutive league game, breaking the 37-year old record set by the title-winning side of 1978/79. That is a fantastic achievement at any level of the game. They are second in the league table, and for the third year running challenging for promotion in a title race that looks as though it will go down to the wire.

So I would encourage Star readers that next time they look at a fixture list and find themselves disillusioned with corporate football that cares less and less about the supporters, come along and give Harlow Town a go.

You never know, you might just like it.

Threat to our village school

(Copy of a letter sent to Robert Halfon MP).

SIR I had not been completely won over by the concept and application of academies which, in my day, were called schools. Assuming that what I have read on the Star's website is an accurate report, I am now firmly opposed to the concept as likely to be enacted at Burnt Mill Academy Trust.

These proposals would be likely to put the future of Roydon Primary School in doubt if not in jeopardy and would be very damaging to the 200 or so children who currently and in future attend the school.

Also, it would cause a fundamental change to the social structure and fabric of Roydon village and, indeed, the wider area of Roydon parish.

As a former governor of Roydon Primary School, I request you, even urge you, to do all that you can to safeguard the staffing and operation of the education of children in all BMAT schools, particularly Roydon Primary School which I knew so well when it had its own headteacher and board of governors.

Richard Greenhill
Harlow Road, Roydon

We don't need this rhetoric

SIR Further to your article about Harlow Council being urged to appoint mental health champion (Star, February 11), I do not feel that champion is a term mental health sufferers will be excited about as there is nothing champion about having a mental health problem.

The statement about getting people to talk about mental health has been bantered around for years. What is needed is a dedicated service but sadly mental health services in Essex are the worst in the country and that has come from people who suffer.

There are many different categories of mental disorder, and many different facets of human behaviour and personality that can become disordered.

Many sufferers have a very poor ability to function in ordinary life and become unemployed loners or a recluse because they cannot function without help.

Experiencing a mental health problem is incredibly upsetting and frightening and that's if you even know you have it. The fears of mental health problems are often reinforced by the negative (and unrealistic) way that people experiencing problems are shown on the news.

The fact that there is often no aftercare leads people to think there is an automatic link between mental health problems and being a danger to others. That is not so.

So stop the monosyllabic rhetoric because it fits into today's topic and will help wins votes. Let's see a change in the way sufferers are treated within the profession as anyone at can be struck with this debilitating illness at any time and thousands will never get better.

Game on for ground move

Rugby club wins planning battle to switch sites

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Rugby Club has won its seven-year struggle to move to a new ground at Latton Farm.

The club, which plays in the London Division 3 North East league, finally gained planning approval to relocate facilities and pitches from its current base at Ram Gorse.

Speaking after members of the council's development management committee rubber-stamped the application at a meeting last Wednesday, club vice-chairman Alan Brookings said: "We are very pleased.

"It is a major step forward and we are much further down the line. We are starting to think about putting the first seeds in the soil.

"All we have to do now is finalise the legal agreements, which is not a major issue. This should take three or four weeks and we should be ready to start in March or April time."

He added: "It all depends how the grass grows for when we move in but we are looking at between December of this year and next February."

The club started considering moving away from Ram Gorse, which is to be developed for housing, in 1996 and a proposal was drawn up in 2008.

The new site at Latton Farm will have six pitches – one for the first team, two for senior teams, two for junior teams and one for training.

Councillors held off granting permission following concerns raised about traffic and noise but the plans were eventually passed in December 2014 subject to the club meeting certain requirements.

"We secured initial planning permission and this new plan addressed some of the issues that were raised," said Mr Brookings. "The committee were satisfied that we had met their directions.

"The report recognises that we have done a lot of things that were asked. People are now starting to get excited as this is finally going to happen."

The amended proposals submitted jointly by the club and developer Kier Living were approved despite some reservations from Cllr Jean Clark.

She said: "I think this area [Latton Farm] is a green oasis so it's important the development has been kept open.

"I think there will be an increase in traffic and of noise and light pollution as well."

But other councillors voiced their support including Cllr Shona Johnson, who said:

"It is going to be completely beneficial to the community and will really add something to the town."

PLEASED: Club vice-chairman Alan Brookings

Residents join in New Year celebrations

RESIDENTS at Livingstone House in Harlow enjoyed some traditional Oriental cuisine when they held their own celebrations to mark the Chinese New Year.

They made Chinese lanterns which were used to decorations and tucked into a meal of sweet and sour chicken, stir fries and spring rolls to herald the start of the Year of the Monkey.

Livingstone House, in Potter Street, is run by Sanctuary Supported Living and provides accommodation and support services for adults with learning difficulties.

Service manager Leigh Carrigan said: "Our residents greatly enjoyed the chance to see in the Chinese New Year with some traditional Chinese

"They also had a great time working on the lanterns together. It's events like these that really foster a sense of community."

£3k top prize in hospice spring raffle fundraiser

FUNDRAISERS at St Clare Hospice are hoping the sale of tickets for this year's spring raffle will generate £35,000.

The holder of the winning ticket will receive £3,000. The list of prizes also includes a 50-inch television and a 15-inch laptop computer.

Every £1 ticket sold will help to pay for the care and support provided by the hospice to people with terminal or life-limiting illnesses and their families. The target figure of £35,000 is enough to cover the cost of providing its Hospice at Home service for four weeks.

Raffle tickets are being sold until Tuesday, March 22 and are available from all of the hospice shops including the branch at the St James Centre off Edinburgh Way, Harlow. They can also be bought from the reception of the hospice at Hastingwood and from ticket booths which members of the St Clare team will be setting up at venues and supermarkets in the coming weeks.

A hotline has also been set up on (01279) 773730 for people wanting to enter the draw by using a bank card to purchase tickets.

The draw takes place on Thursday, March 31.

Car repair bills fuel drivers' complaints

But Tesco denies a problem at its pumps is to blame

star@hertsexnews.co.uk

CAR owners who have had to fork out hundreds of pounds for repairs to their vehicles are adamant the problems can be traced back to fuel from Tesco filling stations in Harlow.

The angry motorists claim they started experiencing problems last month after filling up at the Tesco stores in Edinborough Way and Church Langley Way.

This week Tesco said it had carried out checks on the fuel at both sites and found nothing wrong.

Among those affected was Linda Saunders, 58, of Doulton Close, Harlow, who paid almost £500 to have her car repaired after she filled up with unleaded petrol at the Church Langley store.

"The mechanics said the problem was due to dirty fuel," she said. "As I fill up at Tesco Church Langley 99 per cent of the time I contacted customer services and was told that if it was proved that Tesco petrol had caused the breakdown they would reimburse me."

Faulty

"My bank statement and mechanic's receipt was emailed to Tesco. I also said that the mechanics had given me the faulty parts back in case they needed to be inspected."

"The mechanic also stated that another of his customers had sent a fuel sample to be analysed by trading standards."

Terry Vanderweele, 75, who lives in Sawbridgeworth with wife Carol, filled his Kia Cee'd with diesel at the Edinborough Way store and started experiencing problems the following day.

"It stopped and started all the way up the A1184," he said. "I got it back to the house and the RAC came. They determined the fuel line had a problem."

The car was eventually repaired at a garage in Bishop's Stortford. The owner, Dave O'Brien, confirmed the garage had dealt with five or six fuel issues and all had occurred after the owners had filled up at Tesco stores in Harlow or Bishop's Stortford.

He said: "We couldn't confirm [fuel contamination] but we put the pieces of the puzzle together and assumed it was the fuel. It seemed to be a coincidence that they all came from Tesco."

Crawling

Posting on the Star's Facebook page, Amanda Hill wrote: "Over the past five weeks, on three separate occasions, the engine management light has come on and my car has been put into limp home mode, resulting in crawling on the motorway."

"On the third occasion the garage changed the fuel filter. Each time this had happened I'd just filled up with diesel from the Church Langley Tesco."

And mum-of-two Claire Rogers, of Hampton Gardens, Sawbridgeworth, ended up paying almost £200 for repairs to her Peugeot 308 after filling it with diesel at the Church Langley store on Sunday, January 17.

"[I filled up] as I dropped my husband off to collect a hire car," she said. "Within less than a mile my engine management lights came on."

She took the car to a garage the following day for it to be checked. "It seems it had caused low fuel pressure, a blockage, in my fuel filter," she said. "I discussed it with the garage and they said [it was likely a] dodgy fuel pump."

A Tesco spokesman said: "We carried out an investigation at both sites and no problems were revealed with our fuel."

Quiz organiser delighted by 'fantastic' result

THE organiser of a quiz night in aid of the British Heart Foundation had to move it to a bigger venue because so many people wanted to take part.

Jon Ward, 45, of Hart Road, Old Harlow, intended to hold the fundraiser in High Wych Memorial Hall but moved it to Sawbridgeworth Memorial Hall when 130 people signed up.

The quiz, which was held on Saturday, raised £1,900.

"It was a fantastic night," said Mr Ward (pictured left). "So many people volunteered their time and friends and family offered to make us lasagne and salad."

"It was a lot of work but we raised a lot of money for British Heart Foundation."

Mr Ward, who will be running in the London Marathon in April, chose to support the charity because his father, Gordon, suffered a heart attack in 1981 and has since had three operations.

"Thanks to the BHF he was sitting there on Saturday enjoying the quiz and a glass of wine," said Mr Ward.

Cash rolls in from bowling ladies' gala day

TYE Green Ladies were bowled over by the amount of money they raised from their annual charity gala.

Thirty-two teams from Essex and Hertfordshire took part in the tournament held at the club's complex in Bush Fair last Wednesday.

The event raised £1,723 for St Clare Hospice which included the proceeds from the sale of jewellery, bric-a-brac and other items collected by members over several months.

A raffle was also held and raised £666.

Club member Helen Spear said: "The money will go towards a new dedicated bereavement service for children."

Land near M11 is dropped from waste plant list

CONFIRMATION that Essex County Council has removed land near the M11 junction at Harlow from a list of allocated sites for a waste facility has been welcomed by parish councillors.

North Weald Bassett Parish Council was told unofficially last month that the site next to the McDonald's restaurant had been rejected as a possible site for open-air disposal of inert construction, demolition and excavation waste.

County Hall has now said it had taken the decision because the site is in the Green Belt and any proposals would be rejected unless very special circumstances apply.

"Following further consideration of representations received it is no longer clear that the waste use amounts to very special circumstances," said a county council spokesman.

"Given this uncertainty this site is no longer included in the Replacement Local Waste Plan."

Unacceptable

The parish council branded the suggestion "completely unacceptable" because the proposed site was close to housing, St Clare Hospice, Harlow Garden Centre and McDonald's.

There were also fears that it could have meant eight lorries entering and exiting the site every hour of every day of the year.

Council leader Cyril Hawkins said: "This news brings to an end a period of great uncertainty for the parish as we feared that such a use could go ahead despite the wishes of the parish council and local residents."

Epping Forest Council's overview and scrutiny committee also said the plan should be rejected amid concerns that the use would increase traffic congestion at the junction 7 roundabout of the M11.

More schools could be forced into cutting jobs

But union urges education chiefs to look again at redundancy plans

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertssexnews.co.uk

BURNT Mill Academy Trust will not be alone in announcing redundancies as schools across the region battle to balance the books, the trust's chief executive has warned.

Rising costs for national insurance, pension contributions and the unfunded cost of living increase have been blamed for last week's announcement.

Trust chief executive Helena Mills said: "We know that we have to work within the budget we have which may not have been cut but in real terms is worth less."

"If you take into account inflation and increased contributions to pensions and national insurance that we have to make as employers, we will have eight per cent less by the end of this Parliament. Like so many other academy trusts we are making savings."

The trust, which runs Burnt Mill, Cooks Spinney, Freshwaters and Little Parndon in Harlow, Roydon Primary and Forest Hall in Stansted – is consulting on plans to reduce the number of support workers it employs including teaching assistants, dinner ladies, cleaners and caretakers.

A figure for the number of redundancies has not yet been announced but talks are taking place with all staff and unions.

WARNING: BMAT chief executive Helena Mills

NUT Harlow and Epping Forest secretary Murray Sackwild said schools are having to make "fairly savage cuts" in an effort to maintain current provision and said further cuts in Harlow are inevitable.

"That is an unacceptable situation," he said. "Because academies operate on a smaller financial scale to local authorities there are no contingency funds and no opportunity for short-term deficit budgeting. As further cuts bite over the next four years there is little doubt that educational provision in Harlow will be impacted."

Ms Mills warned that schools and trusts will find themselves in "great difficulties" in the next couple of years if they ignore the cuts.

"We may be one of the first to announce our redundancies but there are many schools in the Eastern region who are doing this now to secure the future of their schools and the children in them," she added.

But Mr Sackwild urged schools to look at their finances again before making "highly valued staff" redundant.

"The loss of teaching assistants and other non-teaching staff doesn't increase class sizes so cosmetically looks less damaging than the loss of teachers – but teaching assistants are vital to the effective operation of a school or an academy and the education provided."

"Additionally while teachers may travel in from 20 miles non-teaching staff tend to be local so these redundancies will hit the local community."

He criticised Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who he said must use his influence to campaign against the cuts, adding: "There are, indeed, massive concerns that cuts will increase redundancies across the town."

"I would ask Mr Halfon to use his significant influence to campaign against education cuts rather than spin figures to make it look as if there isn't an issue. Such an attitude makes it look as if the schools are at fault when, in fact, they are doing extremely well to do what they do with ever-dwindling resources."

Mr Halfon has said he is investigating the levels of Government funding given to BMAT.

Council grants permission for classroom block at St Albans

PERMISSION has been granted for a Harlow primary school to build a new six-classroom block.

St Alban's Catholic Academy has been granted permission by Harlow Council to extend the school building with a two-storey extension.

From September, the Catholic academy will change from a single-form entry - 240 pupils - to two-form entry - 420 pupils - over a five year period.

The extension will create six new classrooms to accommodate the extra pupils.

The plans will also allow for the creation of six additional car parking spaces on the site in First Avenue.

At the moment parents drop off students using the adjacent car park at Our Lady of Fatima Church in Howard Way.

Harlow Council unanimously approved the plans despite concerns about the increased pressure on parking in the area.

One objector said: "We, along with our neighbours, have constant battles on a daily basis with parents of St Alban's using our stretch of the road as a parking place to drop their children off with no consideration for us what so ever."

"Every day our drives are blocked when we need to leave for work, or cars are carelessly parked blocking the pavement for mobility access."

"It's only a matter of time before a child is hurt. I am extremely concerned."

The plans were unanimously approved by the council's development management committee at a meeting last month.

Expansion earmarked for primary academies

County Hall to create 420 new places and build a new school

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A PRIMARY school which was placed in special measures will almost double in size to meet the increasing demand for places in Harlow.

Longwood Primary Academy, in Paringdon Road, will have 210 new places created from September under plans unveiled by Essex County Council.

After the school, which is run by National Education Trust Academies Trust (NET), was placed in special measures by education body Ofsted following an inspection in 2014 it embarked on a two-year programme of improvements.

Under the £360m plans, a further 210 places will also be created at Kingsmoor Academy, in Ployters Road, in 2017 and a new school will open at Newhall in 2018.

Kingsmoor, which is run by the Academy Transformation Trust, had been rated as requiring improvement by Ofsted inspectors but at its last review it was said to be making progress.

Demand

"Essex is growing rapidly and the demand for school places in the county is also continuing to rise," explained county councillor Ray Gooding.

"We have a fantastic track record of investing significant funds to ensure we have the spaces needed to meet that demand and these proposals illustrate our continued commitment to that."

County Hall says its commitment to ensuring Essex has sufficient places to meet the rising demand by approving plans to spend £364m over the next three years including £49.8m in 2016/17. Some 2,195 new school places will be created for the 2016/17 academic year, with thousands more being delivered in 2017/18 and 2018/19.

In addition to the capital spending on creating new school places, a further £9.4m will be spent on other education-related projects.

"Moving forward, we are planning to spend about

EXPANSION: More than 200 extra places are to be created at Longwood Primary Academy £400m over the next five years, including more than £80m on delivering new special school places," added Cllr Gooding.

The Star contacted both NET Academy Trust and the Academy Transformation Trust for a comment. They had not responded by the time we went to press.

In brief

Pets at Home's £20,000 makeover will bring jobs

HARLOW: Pets at Home is to undergo a £200,000 refurbishment.

Three new jobs will be created by the makeover which will see a groom room added to the store at the St James Centre in Edinburgh Way.

The groom room, which will open on Friday, March 4, will offer a wide range of services including full grooming, bath and blow dry, puppy grooming and nail clipping.

Store manager Garry Ormes said: "We've listened carefully to what our customers have been telling us. Our mission is to ensure pets live a happy and healthy life, and by investing in our store and services we hope to help achieve this."

GP's asthma warning

HEALTH: The current cold spell has prompted a warning to parents and carers of children with asthma to be on their guard.

The West Essex Clinical Commissioning Group, which is responsible for planning and buying NHS healthcare in Harlow and Epping Forest, has warned that cold weather is a major trigger for asthma symptoms.

One in 11 children suffers from the condition and NHS figures show a child is admitted to hospital every 20 minutes following an asthma attack.

CCG chairman and Harlow GP Dr Rob Gerlis said: "Hospital admissions for asthma traditionally peak during periods of particularly cold weather. This can be due to breathing cold air into the lungs which can in turn trigger asthma."

"Children whose asthma is well-controlled are more likely to be able to withstand the risks of winter and avoid having to spend any time in hospital."

Cadets' family music quiz

HARLOW: The Harlow Sea Cadet and Royal Marine Cadet Unit is holding a fundraising music quiz for all family on Saturday.

Tickets are available on the night and cost £3 per person, with doors opening at 7.30pm for an 8pm start. There will be a licenced bar as well as tea and coffee.

All proceeds will go towards maintaining the unit and its minibus. The quiz will be held in the unit behind Tye Green Bowling Club off Tilegate Road at Bush Fair.

Four trapped after crash

HARLOW: Firefighters used cutting equipment to free four people and a dog after they were trapped in a car which left the carriageway and skidded into a ditch between junctions 8 (Bishop's Stortford) and 7 (Harlow) of the M11 on Monday evening.

Paralympian's dogged determination inspires

Wheelchair basketball star delivers motivational talk

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

PARALYMPIAN Wendy Smith encouraged students to follow their dreams when she delivered a motivational speech during a visit to a Harlow school.

Ms Smith, who suffered serious injuries in an horrific motorbike accident at the age of 17, was part of the British wheelchair basketball team that competed in the 2004 Paralympic Games in Athens.

Encourages

Her visit to Freshwaters Primary Academy, in School Lane, was arranged as part of the Be The Best You Can Be programme which encourages children to achieve their potential as responsible individuals, citizens and member of their community.

She said: "I believe in the programme because it really does work. I have seen children transform from states of 'I can't do that' to 'I can do that' during the three hours I attend schools.

"At the end of the programme all the children involved understand their lives are their creation and responsibility and that with belief and application, they can."

Injuries

Ms Smith was told she would never walk again after suffering numerous injuries in the accident, including a severe spinal injury, which resulted in a year-long stay in hospital.

However, she refused to accept the medical profession's prognosis and battled for years at the gym, devising her own rehab plan. She is now able to walk with the aid of sticks.

The programme, which was set up as part of the legacy of the 2012 London Olympics, aims to motivate the children and help to develop their self-esteem and confidence.

PARALYMPIC STAR: Wendy Smith with Freshwaters pupils

CHILDREN at three Harlow primary schools turned back the clock to the days of the dinosaurs when they took part in a workshop led by an expert on the subject.

Palaeontologist Graham Woollard kept Reception class pupils from Longwood Primary Academy in Paringdon Road, Abbotswood Primary Academy in Partridge Road and Latton Green Primary Academy in Riddings Lane extremely busy with a variety of dinosaur-themed activities.

Mr Woollard is from Portals to the Past which runs workshops in history and earth sciences for schools and museums.

Jenny O'Neill, early year's leader of the three NET Academy Trust schools, commented: "The children were engaged and excited by Mr Woollard's visit.

BURNING BRIGHT: Students from four Harlow skills passed the Firebreak course

Students spent five days learning art of firefighting

STUDENTS from four Harlow schools have passed a Firebreak course run by Essex County Fire and Rescue Service.

During the five-day course the group of 12 youngsters from Burnt Mill, Stewards, Passmore and Mark Hall academies were shown how to use powerful hose reels, wore specialist breathing apparatus, climbed ladders and performed mock-rescues using the training tower at Harlow Fire Station in Fourth Avenue.

At the end of the course on Friday they took part in a passing out ceremony in front of their parents, teachers and other pupils.

The course was funded by the schools and the Essex Community Foundation.

Sub officer Peter Mountier, who was lead instructor on the course, said: "All the students should be proud of their achievements over the week. They worked hard and participated fully in each lesson.

"The students were fantastic and I hope they have taken home some vital life skills that will not only boost their confidence but can help in everyday life."

We will make sure every penny is put to good use

LAST week Harlow Council agreed its budgets for 2016/17.

Our priority is to do what we can to ensure services are not taken away from residents, although this continues to be difficult to achieve.

Despite Government funding cuts being greater than anticipated and further changes to funding for council housing, this year all services are protected from closure or major cuts.

There is little room for the council to invest money in improving services, but I believe we continue to provide an excellent range of services for the town.

Increasing council tax won't be popular but a small 7p a week increase in the council's share of the average council tax bill helps towards protecting services, now and in the future.

Although Harlow collects council tax on behalf of Essex County Council, the Essex Police and Crime Commissioner and Essex Fire & Rescue, it only keeps around 17p of every £1 collected. For the average council tax bill in 2016/17, Essex County Council will be increasing its share by 74p a week and Essex Police by 8p a week.

Although a small proportion of the funding (around 10 per cent), the money Harlow Council gets from council tax helps fund a range of non-housing services. The council's housing budget is separate and is mostly funded by tenants' rents.

This year, rent levels will go down to meet Government legislation. However, less income from rents means less money for the council's housing services, modernising and maintaining council homes and the building of new council houses.

Despite the unprecedented financial challenges remaining, we still have ambitious plans for Harlow and good things are planned for our town, like the regeneration of the town centre and the £420m investment in the new world-class Public Health England science hub.

We will continue to make the case for the investment that Harlow needs in its infrastructure such as transport and health facilities.

We will work with you to make sure the money we do receive has the biggest impact on improving Harlow.

Man died from head injuries in stairs fall

Police launched murder probe after accident, inquest is told

Court Reporter

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MAN whose death sparked a murder investigation died after falling down the stairs of his home in Old Harlow, an inquest has heard.

Stephen Case, 53, of The Hoo, died as the result of serious head injuries which he sustained in the fall on Tuesday, April 28 last year.

The inquest held at Chelmsford Coroners' Court on Thursday heard that post mortem tests showed Mr Case had 340 milligrams of alcohol per 100 millilitres of blood – more than four times the legal drink drive limit of 80 mg.

Police initially treated his death as suspicious and arrested Mr Case's partner, Alastair Weir, on suspicion of grievous bodily harm and then later murder, but the inquest was told he was never charged with either offence.

Detective Chief Inspector Morgan Cronin, who handled the case, said police were contacted by the ambulance service at 12.26am on April 20.

"Mr Weir reported at the time that he [Mr Case] had fallen down the stairs and had a head injury. The ambulance team thought that was suspicious and the behaviour of Mr Weir concerned them.

"Mr Weir was arrested on suspicion of causing grievous bodily harm. Sadly Mr Case died in hospital on April 28 and at its highest this was a murder investigation."

DCI Cronin told the court that the forensics team found no evidence of domestic violence and added that there was no evidence from their phones that there had been any bad feeling between the two men, who had met through an online dating site.

Eleanor McGann, the area coroner for Essex, said that after hearing the evidence she concluded Mr Case had died as the result of an accident.

"There is nothing to show that this is an unlawful killing," she said. "I will not be returning the verdict of alcohol-related death even though it played some part."

Addressing the five members of Mr Case's family who attended the hearing, Ms McGann said: "I hope you can take away happy memories of Stephen today."

■ Verdict: accidental death.

Hundreds respond to consultation over future of fire service

MORE than 800 people have so far responded to a consultation which is set to shape the future of Essex County Fire and Rescue Service.

The consultation, which was launched at the beginning of this month, sets out a series of options which the service says will help it to meet the challenges of the future.

Acting Chief Fire Officer Adam Eckley said:

"This consultation is the largest we have ever undertaken and it will help us meet the challenges we will face in the future. By acting now we can make sure that we are ready and can continue to reduce risk, prevent injury and save lives in Essex."

The consultation, which runs for 12 weeks, sets out three options for change. A series of information events are taking place at libraries across the county at which people will be able to talk to service managers about changes and options proposed in their local area as well as fill out the survey.

One of them will be held at Harlow Central Library on Monday, February 29 from 2-7pm.

Dog with a hi-tech leg

THE latest technology has come to the rescue of a dog which lost both of its front legs in a terrible accident.

Vets at an animal hospital in Mexico have used a 3D printer to create an artificial leg for the unlucky whippet called Romina.

The leg has been made so that the joints can move in much the same way as a real leg.

After being contacted by Romina's owners, it took the specialist team at the hospital six months to design and select the right materials to create the leg.

The good news is that Romina is now enjoying life again after learning to walk with her artificial leg.

Romina's delighted owner told reporters:

"When I put it on I see she feels happy with it."

"I don't see that it bothers her. She is trying to walk and she even supports herself more on the artificial leg, so I'm happy about that."

Happy Birthday

DANIEL ROBINSON & SONS

Independent Family

Funeral Directors and Monumental Masons

Established

WHY CHOOSE AN INDEPENDENT FUNERAL DIRECTOR?

In all forms of business today there are big national companies that have made their profits through taking over smaller firms. The funeral profession is no exception. Many businesses have changed hands but have not necessarily changed names. That makes it hard for you to distinguish between a family owned firm and the branch of a vast conglomerate. The independent funeral profession has a long and proud history of personal service to local communities. Carrying on the family tradition is a way of life for many independent funeral directors. They are deeply committed to upholding professional standards. Some of the oldest continuously operated businesses in Britain are family-owned firms. Without asking you may never know if the owners your family have trusted over the years continue to make the decisions which will affect the service your receive.

So, when you need the services of a funeral director, just ask. It's important that you know who you're speaking to. Never be embarrassed to ask a funeral director to show you their premises or enquire about the likely costs. A reputable funeral director will be more than happy to answer any questions you may have as to whether there is a Chapel of Rest, whether their staff are qualified, what the fees are, if they have mortuary facilities on site and what age and what type of vehicles are available.

A good funeral director, like Daniel Robinson & Sons will be available 24 hours a day, 52 weeks of the year, offering an emergency service with free advice and counselling. All arrangements will be made on the family's behalf, either at the funeral home or in the privacy of the family's home.

A recent IPSOS Mori report highlighted in a survey of 500 towns in the UK where there was a Co-Op, Dignity & independent funeral director, that the independent funeral director offered the best value and service in every case.

WHY CHOOSE A PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLAN?

Pre-paid funeral plans are already established as a caring and responsible way of making arrangements, services can be tailored to reflect an individual's personality, wishes and life.

With families living further apart and, in some cases moving abroad, it is not unusual for children or relatives to purchase a plan on behalf of an elderly or infirm relative or parent.

Pre-paid funeral plans are not normally regarded as forming part of a person's assets or estate, so therefore, in some circumstances this may enable the plan holder to claim benefits for which they may not otherwise qualify. This could even prove advantageous with situations involving inheritance tax.

The National Society of Allied & Independent Funeral Directors (SAIF), which Daniel Robinson & Sons are proud members of, recommend Golden Charter pre-paid funeral plans. Golden Charter work solely on behalf of 3,300 independent funeral directors throughout the UK.

Local funeral directors are proud that when plans are made with them they can use their local knowledge to personalise the pre-paid plan for the individual, with a good overview of the community that they serve. They will ensure that the most appropriate services and up to date price information is available, maintaining choice and providing a professional service. Daniel Robinson & Sons are committed to upholding their professional standards and providing both traditional and contemporary services. They are not distracted or bound by corporate rules meaning that they can concentrate on delivering a personal service to you and your family.

By offering Golden Charter Independent Way Funeral Plans, Daniel Robinson & Sons ensure that their clients have the reassurance that their money is protected. Your money is paid into the Golden Charter Trust, the money grows and when the time comes to provide the agreed services to your family, the funeral director's services will be paid for no matter how much costs have risen in the intervening period.

For many people the reason that they take out a plan isn't just financial, it is peace of mind that their family will not have to deal with any worries regarding the funeral arrangements and also having the ability to specify their exact wishes. The friendly team at Daniel Robinson & Sons' will be pleased to meet you or have a chat over the phone, find out what you have in mind and answer any questions you may have, there is no obligation to ultimately take out a plan.

Please visit their website for further details, or give them a call, www.drobinson.co.uk.

The Daniel Robinson & Sons team at Harlow - proud to have regularly achieved the status of Golden Charter Regional Funeral Planners of the Year.

NEED A FRIEND? Cruse Bereavement Care offers one-to-one support for those who are bereaved and those who care for them. It also supports children and young people through a national helpline service

Caring for the bereaved

Cruse Bereavement Care is the largest and most recognised bereavement organisation in the UK.

Their mission is to offer support, advice and information to children, young people and adults, when someone dies. They also strive to enhance society's care for bereaved people. They offer:

- One-to-one bereavement support
- Services for children and young people (both one-to-one and in groups) via the dedicated children and young people's helpline
- Group support (general bereavement, specialist bereavement and friendship)
- Telephone support (provided both locally and through our national helpline)

■ Email support

Cruse Bereavement Care has worked with adults across the whole of Essex for many years. Cruse Bereavement Care provides free care to all bereaved people, as well as offering information, support and training services to those who are looking after them.

They have a team of 71 volunteers who give their time free of charge.

A number of the team are also trained counsellors, or training on counselling courses; this enables them to provide additional support and counselling to those who may have more complex needs following their bereavement.

Cruse is a member of the British Association of Counsellors and Psychotherapists and follows the rigorous code of ethics set out by that organisation.

In order for Cruse Bereavement Care to undertake this vital work, they rely on generous donations.

The Magic of The Beatles live on stage

FANS of The Beatles will be given another chance to twist and shout to the fab four this month.

David Paterson said his tribute band, The Magic of The Beatles, are excited about rocking Harlow Playhouse on Saturday, February 27.

"We have played there before and I am looking forward to returning," said David, who performs as Paul McCartney.

"We do about 70-80 shows a year but the memories of each venue come flooding back whenever we return."

David, who plays bass, is the group's founder and only original member. Much like Paul, he originally played guitar before swapping to bass and made the instrument his own.

He is joined on stage by Michael Gagliano as John Lennon, Richard Petch as George Harrison and Dave Gee as Ringo Starr.

"I think we have to try and get into character as much as we can," said David.

"We take about 15 guitars with us as we have to recreate the sound from the era as much as possible.

The show goes progressively forward in time which I think is the only way of doing it.

"There are lots of costume changes and the wigs get progressively longer."

This year is the 50th anniversary of The Beatles' acclaimed album Revolver and the show takes time to reflect on a golden era for a generation's biggest band.

But the two-hour spectacle may also feature many a hit from a repertoire that includes: Hard Day's Night, Twist and Shout, Hello Goodbye, All You Need Is Love, Hey

Jude and Here Comes The Sun.

"The problem is there are too many hits," laughed David.

"People will always be disappointed but we do try and change it round quite a lot so have a good selection.

"My personal favourite is Please, Please Me which was the first thing that really ever grabbed me when I was listening to the radio."

■ The Magic of The Beatles will take place on Saturday, February 27 at Harlow Playhouse. Tickets cost £16 - £19.50 available from www.playhouseharlow.com.

Get glam and ready to rock

"I HAVE been doing it for 24 years now and I still get a bit jittery before every gig," said Danielz.

"But as soon as I play the first chord on my guitar the fear is gone and I can become myself on stage."

More than two decades after he first donned the iconic sequins, the 57-year-old T.Rextasy frontman still gets a kick out of stepping into the shoes of Marc Bolan.

And fans of glam rock will be pleased to hear that the world leading tribute band is back at Harlow Playhouse this month.

Over the years the band has toured Europe and Asia, released several albums, performed songs alongside a-list names and remain as busy as ever.

"We have cut back a little bit and we tend to do around 80 shows a year," said Danielz.

"It used to be more than 100 but it was getting crazy with the travel. Over the years we have also done the abroad gigs and done Japan and Europe. It is crazy for T.Rex in Japan but the band have fans all over the world and you'd be surprised by some of the places we have played.

"We have played with some big names, including Noddy Holder and Boy George – while several of the remaining members of T.Rex have joined us on stage."

Marc Bolan is considered by many to be one of the first superstars of the 1970s and a pioneer of the glam rock style.

During a six-year hot streak T.Rex released 15 top 20 hits and recorded many classic anthems, including 20th Century Boy, Solid Gold Easy Action, Ride a White Swan, Get it On and Children of the Revolution.

Sadly T.Rex came to an end when Marc died in a car crash in 1977, a few days before his 30th birthday. But thanks to Danielz and his band the hits live on.

Members of Bolan's estate have endorsed the music while the keyboard player Dino Dines, who was part of T.Rex in the 1970s, has toured with T.Rextasy for a period before his death in 2004. Danielz has even won the approval of the late David Bowie, a personal friend of Marc's.

"We have got to give the audience what they want as they have paid a lot of money to come and see the show," said Danielz. "There are two one-hour parts with a 20 minute interval and of course we play the hits.

"But we do like to change it up and we will do two or three for the hard fans who have been around since the 70s as well as an acoustic section, so they will have something a bit different."

The band is currently giving attention to the classic anthem I Love to Boogie, which celebrates its 40th birthday this year.

The track was one of several T.Rex songs to feature on the soundtrack for Billy Elliott, and T.Rextasy played at the launch party for the film which gave the band exposure to a new audience.

"We have a mixture of people coming to the shows from 10-year-olds to people my age who were around when it all started," added Danielz.

"I think it is the sound of the songs that makes them still relevant. It still sounds so fresh like it was recorded yesterday. Marc Bolan would only do two or three takes for a song as he did not want to lose a certain spark. The demo for I Love to Boogie was actually the version released as a single. I think that spark is often missing from modern music where bands have to do take after take."

The success of T.Rextasy means that Danielz has now been playing longer than Marc Bolan ever had. Their longevity is rare for a tribute band, but it is helped by their unique approach that has seen them record four albums.

"The albums are cover songs of course but what I did was take about three of four songs they did not finish and complete them in our own fashion. I try and include some of our own songs, inspired by T.Rex on there too, but only one or two."

■ T.Rextasy will perform at Harlow Playhouse on Friday, February 26. Tickets are on sale now and prices start from £18. To book visit www.playhouseharlow.com.

Theatre company is set to shake it up

THERE'S a touch of class in a high ball glass at the Victoria Hall Theatre when Harlow Theatre Company present John Godber's comedy Shakers.

Set in an eponymous cocktail bar 'Shakers' is the place to be. After work, before a club, the theatre or to spend the night. To flirt with the fellas, to chat up the girls, to eat, drink, celebrate or drown your sorrows. For birthdays and parties and romance and sin, Shakers Bar is the place to be in.

John Godber's sparkling writing builds on the success of his earlier Bouncers to create a richly absorbing, touching and revealing modern comedy.

Written in 1987 at the height of the yuppie revolution, Shakers is a play that's an energetic sequence of quick-fire, sharply observed humour interspersed with touching monologues.

Directed by Paul Johnson, the cast of Pamela Self-Pierson, Alexandra Appleton, Becky Byrne and Helga Kilroy play a multitude of parts from Daz and Trev the macho builders to the checkout girls on a big night out, and the lads with their Ted Baker shirts and cheesy grins.

■ Shakers opens at 8pm on Wednesday, March 2 and runs until Saturday, March 5. Tickets are £13 or £10 for concessions from ticketsource.co.uk/harlowtheatrecompany.

Romantics sleep around in city that never sleeps

Looking for love, companionship or a welcoming port in a carnal storm couldn't be simpler in a 24-hour digital age of competing apps and online dating services.

You no longer have to practice chat-up lines or reject potential suitors face to face.

A casual swipe of a touchscreen relegates unsuitable matches to the scrapheap while an array of winks, woofs, whistles and growls alerts the lucky few to your piqued interest.

Based on the book of the same name by Liz Tucillo, Christian Ditter's raucous comedy drama follows a group of hapless and hopeless romantics in New York City as they stumble between one-night stands, missed opportunities and chance liaisons.

It's a glossy and sporadically hilarious portrait of sleeping around in the city that never sleeps, populated by attractive and wealthy people who spend the best part of two hours vacillating about affairs of the heart when common sense dictates they would be inundated with offers.

Perky heroine Alice (Dakota Johnson) meets her boyfriend Josh (Nicholas Braun) at college, but worries that the relationship has curtailed her journey of self-discovery.

"We need to know what it's like to be single... at least once," she tells her heartbroken beau, enforcing their temporary separation by moving to the Big Apple, where she crashes with her sister Meg (Leslie Mann), a pediatric doctor immune to the charms of gurgling toddlers.

Alice lands a plum job as a paralegal at a top firm, where she is befriended by spirited fellow employee Robin (Rebel Wilson).

The gal pals join forces in their pursuit of handsome bed partners, snagging bar man Tom (Anders Holm) and widower

David (Damon Wayans Jr), who is fiercely protective of his young daughter Phoebe (Zani Jones Mbayise).

Meanwhile Meg is caught off-guard a charming younger suitor, Ken (Jake Lacy), and commitment-phobe Tom develops an infuriating crush on one of his customers, Lucy (Alison Brie).

How To Be Single stomps over similar ground to the 2009 romcom He's Just Not That Into You, also based on a book by Tucillo, and is peppered with the usual array of heartbreaks and gushing declarations, underscored by a toe-tapping soundtrack of Taylor Swift, Guns

DAKOTA JOHNSON as Alice and REBEL WILSON as Robin

N' Roses and Avicii.

Johnson is a likeable, if slightly bland, dreamer, not too far removed from her little girl lost in Fifty Shades Of Grey, while Wilson injects madcap comic energy including various ad-libs that elicit the occasional belly laugh. Her potty-mouthed riffs in a sauna scene are a particular treat.

Ditter skips merrily back and forth between the different characters, drizzling closing scenes with emotional syrup, so even the unlucky in love are ridiculously fortunate in life.

Luck be a sex-crazed single lady.

Create a keepsake box for mum's big day

RUSTIC LIVING

Jodie May writes about craft, nature and a rural life

SO lately, I've been trying to think of some crafty ways to make use of all the photos that are sitting on my laptop and since Mother's Day is coming up, I decided to make my mum a personalised decoupage memory box using pretty floral papers and old photos!

This project is super easy, making it an ideal craft project for kids too.

This would make a lovely thoughtful pressie for any occasion, as you can really personalise it with photos, old love letters, maps, or simply your favourite things.

This box features photographs of all the wonderful women from my mum's family, from both past and present. A lovely way to remember them all I think and I know my mum will love it - if she doesn't see it here first!

Step 1:

Tear up your floral paper, book and photographs. You could use scissors if you'd prefer, but tearing gives a much nicer, smoother finish.

Step 2:

Start in one corner, and apply some glue to the box, place a piece of paper on the glue, then put a layer of glue on top of the paper. That, in a nutshell is decoupage.

Step 3:

Slowly work your way over the rest of the area, alternating between each of the pieces to give a nice contrast.

My method was to cover an area with just the florals and writing paper, then place the photo in the middle. However, there really is no right way, just be creative and have fun with it.

Step 4:

If possible try and fold/glue the edges around as you go. Then when you've finished one side, give it another good, thick coat of a glue all over.

Don't worry if it looks white, PVA will dry clear. Leave it to dry overnight, then do the other side the following day.

Ta-dah!
JM x

WHAT YOU WILL NEED ...

A BOX Any box will do, ideally made of wood or cardboard.

A FEW SHEETS OF FLORAL PAPER Often it comes free with craft magazines, or pop into your nearest Hobbycraft for some floral decoupage paper. Wrapping paper would be fine.

SOME PHOTOGRAPHS PRINTED ONTO REGULAR PLAIN A4 PAPER Most printers now are laserjet which is ideal, if you use an inkjet printed it may run!

PVA GLUE & PAINTBRUSH You can use Mod podge or regular PVA in your preferred finish, I like matt.

AN OLD BOOK Thankfully this one already had pages missing!

Our job is all about listening

We had Ricci from your office come out to us just before Christmas for an informal chat and the possibility of us coming onto the market as a rental property with Intercounty.

Ricci was so well informed giving us excellent advice and information as first time landlords this was so valuable and feeling in safe hands thanks to Ricci's visit we had no hesitation in choosing Intercounty.

Ricci's customer service is excellent and I'm a stickler for giving praise/complaining when necessary so wanted to email in.

Looking forward to using you as our agents in Harlow.

L Banks

WANTED

Try opera for free!

Have you ever wanted to watch an opera?
Experience your first operatic production, live and free of charge, live in your local cinema for the chance to win two tickets to the Royal Opera House in Covent Garden, London!

King's College London and the Royal Opera House have joined forces to investigate what opera newcomers make of new productions of Boris Godunov & Lucia di Lammermoor, broadcast in real time straight from the stage to the silver screen. This is a unique opportunity to watch the Royal Opera's world-class artists bring these masterpieces to life.

Boris Godunov, a historical epic that charts the decline of Russia's imperial glory, is widely considered the greatest Russian opera: a work of technical innovation and musical brilliance. Meanwhile, Gaetano Donizetti's smouldering tragedy Lucia di Lammermoor tells the story of an innocent woman caught in the grip of a vicious family feud. The renowned piece is given a feminist twist by director Katie Mitchell (Written on Skin).

To be eligible for this research project, you must be based in the Hertfordshire area, and have never seen an opera before - ever. By completing a short survey after the show, you will be entered into a prize draw for two free tickets to an upcoming show at the Royal Opera House!

If you would like to participate, please email josephattar02@hotmail.co.uk or call the number below expressing your interest.

TUSSLE: Action from Harlow's loss to Stowmarket

Virus-hit side suffer defeat

Sixth loss threatens promotion

VIRUS swept through the Harlow camp as they suffered a sixth loss in London Division Three North East.

The 20-17 home defeat against seventh-placed Stowmarket has given the Rams a mountain to climb to go up this season.

They are now 11 points adrift of the promotion places.

The hosts started well, scoring a try on four minutes. Scott Whitby broke through and passed to Ryan McGlone on the wing to give him a simple try from five metres out.

Stowmarket levelled on 15 minutes, scoring a try from a counter attack.

The visitors added a second try on 23 minutes.

The first conversion of the match was slotted over to give the Suffolk side a 12-5 lead.

Just before half-time Stowmarket scored their third try, putting them 17-5 up going into the interval.

The visitors slotted over a penalty ten minutes after the break (20-5).

A yellow card for a Stowmarket prop for punching gave the hosts a glimpse of opportunity.

Prop Martin Cunningham drove the ball over the line for a try, which was converted by Danny Smith.

A late try from new signing Scott Stalley came too late to avoid defeat.

On Saturday, Harlow visit bottom side Beccles.

Brendon's Barcelona best time

Running

SEVERAL Harlow Running Club members left the cold weather behind and travelled to Spain to compete in the Barcelona Half Marathon.

Brendon MacLean led the way in 1519th place out of 17,569 finishers in a personal best (PB) time for the distance of 1hr 31min 02sec.

He was followed home by Sean Flynn (1488th in 1:42:07), Sandi Ruse (5258th in 1:45:20), Katherine Pennelly (7198th in 1:51:35 debut), Richard Smith (9126th in 1:57:58 PB) Holly Nairn (11,404th in 2:08:08), Terry Pike (12,621th in 2:17:10) and Joy Hale (13,407th in 2:28:36).

Meanwhile at the Hatfield Forest parkrun 5K, Laura Jepcott was 76th out of 134 finishers and first female junior in an excellent 28min 27sec.

This equals her PB and the HRC U20 record which she set just the previous week.

Her father Jamie finished in fifth place and was first veteran 45 in a superb 19:54.

Husband and wife Janice and David Page – plus their golden retriever dog – finished 81st in 28:44 and 82nd in 28:50 respectively.

Chapman still focused on play-off spot

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman is confident his side can still overhaul Ryman North leaders AFC Sudbury – who struggled to beat bottom side Barkingside 1-0 at home on Saturday – but is just focused on the play-offs for now.

Harlow Town beat a record set in 1978 when they secured a 12th successive victory by comprehensively defeating play-off rivals Thurrock 4-1.

Chapman warned: "You look at the games in hand. They have got to be won. That brings us a lot closer, but let's just keep concentrating on one game at a time, get to the end of March and see where we are and see about winning it."

The Harlow manager remains confident that even if they finish in the play-offs for a third successive season, they have the mental character required to go up.

Prepare

"Play-offs are what they are. You saw that last year. Thurrock came and beat us and I think it was 20 points difference," he said.

"It means nothing. It's a one-off game. All you can do is prepare yourself and see where the result takes you. At the moment the play-offs is still the goal."

Meanwhile, Chapman praised striker Alex Read, who showed tremendous strength to turn around the match after he missed a penalty.

He set up the equaliser and then scored a wonderful goal to make it 4-1.

"I was so pleased for Ready because he has worked so hard. I thought his finish was quite something," he said.

"The penalty was disappointing. Ready rarely misses penalties. It took us five minutes to sort our heads out, and in that time they broke away and scored," said Chapman.

"The work rate was fantastic. Defensively we looked sound. Overall it's another good performance and it's another three points to where we want to get to."

Record breakers

Hawks smash 1978-79 victory streak with 12th win

HARLOW Town's class of 2015-16 went into the club's history books with their 12th straight victory. The 4-1 victory over Thurrock at The Harlow Arena on Saturday surpassed the feat of 11 wins achieved by the Isthmian Division One title-winning Owls side of the 1978-79 season.

Harlow were 1-0 down at half-time and had missed a penalty, so it looked like it might be one of those days for the Hawks.

But an astonishing three-goal spell in five minutes around the hour turned this game on its head.

Harlow have had an awful record against their bogey team Thurrock.

They had never beaten the Fleet until they won ten days ago in a league match and had never won at home.

Stamping

Even when they were called Purfleet, Harlow had recorded one win against their Essex rivals. That solitary away win against Purfleet came in 1989.

Thurrock also beat the Hawks in last season's play-off semi-final despite a 103 points tally, three points more than Harlow got when they won the title in 1978-79.

Thurrock named ex-Hawks skipper Dave Cowley in midfield, while Michael Toner, skipping the visitors, and keeper Rhys Madden all returned to their old stamping ground.

The game got off to a stunning start.

After barely 80 seconds, Mario Noto threaded a ball through to Alex Read and he stormed into the box but was taken out by keeper Madden.

Referee Christopher Francis had no option but to point to the spot and yellow carded Madden.

Read took the penalty but rolled the ball the wrong side of the left post.

Thurrock then broke the deadlock on nine minutes when Ronnie Winn brushed aside poor Hawks defending before firing a shot from just inside the box into the bottom right corner.

If the first half got off to an awful start, the second was its polar opposite as Harlow levelled after just 20 seconds.

Read cut the ball across from the left side of the Thurrock penalty area and with Junior Dadson ready to tap home, the visitors' centre-half Remi Sutton could only stab the ball into his own net.

It was just the start Harlow needed.

The hosts took the lead on 56 minutes with a contender for goal of the season.

Fabion Simms slipped the ball through to Dadson from his own half. The winger was 40 yards out and had a huge amount to do, but he stepped on the gas, went past two defenders and then curled the ball beautifully into the bottom left corner.

Harlow added a third three minutes later as Piers Wixon pushed the ball back from the byline in the Thurrock box and Noto poked it into the bottom left corner.

Harlow then made it three goals in five minutes when Read struck a fourth on 61 minutes.

Madden and two Thurrock defenders were blocking his path to goal. However, he launched an astonishing chip which crept just under the crossbar.

Harlow comfortably saw out the remaining half an hour to become record breakers.

Thurrock boss Mark Stimson refused to shake Chapman's hand at the end, which was disappointing.

Chapman added: "We now have to think about Dereham away. Everyone is going to want to end that 12 games. We're one of those scapals."

JD toasts best goal in his career

JUNIOR DADSON hailed his wonder goal against Thurrock as the best of his career because of the back drop of it giving Harlow Town the edge to go on and demolish their opponents and take their place in the club's record books.

The winger now has his highest goal tally for a season of 27 goals, matching his age.

He ran 25 yards past two defenders before drilling a wonderful shot into the bottom left corner to give the Hawks a decisive 2-1 lead, a goal that could have easily graced that evening's Match of the Day programme on BBC1.

Dadson said: "For what the cause was today [going for the club record 12th win], it was probably the best goal.

"I'm pleased with the goal. The manager has always said once you get into the final third, that's where the attacking players can make something happen.

"Thankfully I was able to make some space for myself, get inside the full-back and hit it into the bottom corner."

Knowing Harlow's poor record against Thurrock – never having beaten them at home or in their previous reincarnation as Purfleet – Dadson said it was playing on the players' minds at half-time when they were 1-0 down and had missed a penalty, but they were determined to end their hoodoo.

"Subconsciously it was in the back of our minds. I believe that once a mistake has happened, it's gone," said the former Blackburn Rovers player.

"You go on to the next one. The manager was saying we have got to come out as quick as we started and keep the same intent.

"We had to address the task at hand and that was to win today against a team that in the last few years we have not had the best of form against. But this year we have totally dominated them."

Thurrock were blown away by the hosts' stunning start to the second half with four goals in 15 minutes, including a five-minute spell when three goals were scored.

"It felt like we had scored four goals in ten minutes," he said.

Dadson also enjoyed watching Alex Read's goal, Harlow's fourth, a delicate chip executed to perfection, which was the icing on the cake.

"It was sublime. He came into contact with the keeper. But the execution was great."

The result left Harlow in second, ten points behind leaders AFC Sudbury, who they face away on the last day of the season.

Only British champs can beat bronze hero Canaan at Indoors

CANAAN SOLOMON secured a bronze medal at the English National Indoor Age Group Championships in Sheffield.

The 17-year-old won his 800m heat in 1min 53.02sec.

In the final he faced the Scottish champion Ben Greenwood and last year's U20 winner Spencer Thomas, from Brighton.

Greenwood won in 1:53.06 with Thomas second and Canaan taking the bronze in 1:54.06.

"Canaan once again enjoyed the occasion and can only benefit from these top class championships," said Canaan's Woodford Green & Essex Ladies AC coach John Stow.

The year 2016 is promising to be an outstanding one for St Nicholas School student Zoe Benton.

The 17-year-old athlete, who has stepped up to the U20 age group this season, also competed at Sheffield last weekend.

She was fourth in her 400m heat in a fantastic time of 59.26sec.

The youngster, of Matching Tye, is competing against girls more than two years older than her.

The previous week Benton, who is a member of the East Herts-based Herts Phoenix Athletic Club, was victorious in the U20 girls' 400m in 60.24 at the London Indoor Games, held at the Lee Valley Athletic Centre in North London.

Alicia McArdell, 18, was third in the Herts Schools Championships in the senior girls' race over 4.2km in 18:22.

This secured automatic selection for the English Schools' Championships on March 5 at Wollaton Park in the Midlands.

Alicia's younger sister Hollie, 11, was ninth in the Year 7 girls' race over 2.6km in 12:43.

Ten-year-old Maxwell Chinn, from Harlow, shone in the Herts

Primary Schools' race over 1600m.

Maxwell was second, just seven seconds behind winner Adam Grimes.

Maxwell will now represent Herts Schools on March 19 at the Primary Schools' Inter Counties match in Belvoir Castle in Leicestershire.

Burnt Mill student Kyesha Robinson, 14, won the U17 girls' 300m at the Essex Championships in a PB of 41.96.

Hawks close to league joy

HARLOW Hawks can seal the Essex Basketball League Division Two title in their next game on Friday February 26 at home to Southend Scorpions.

The Hawks will go there in confident mood after beating Southend away 86-82 in their last match on Monday.

Hawks started the game very slowly and missed a number of scoring opportunities and Scorpions capitalised on this as they secured the rebounds and pushed the ball up the floor for a number of easy scores.

The visitors were down by a big double digit lead after two quarters.

However, in the second half the shots started to drop for Hawks as they clawed their way back into the game.

This was backed up with some solid defence and made it a very tense final minute to the game as Hawks took the lead and then secured the win from the foul line with seven seconds left on the clock, winning 82-86.

The win qualified Hawks for the end of season play-offs (top four teams only).

But more importantly they just need one more win from their final three games to win the league.

Late try vital to going up

A TRY deep in stoppage time gave Epping Upper Clapton victory and the momentum to seal promotion in London Division Three North East.

Keith Green's side were 18-15 down and all hosts Wanstead had to do was kick the ball to touch from a scrum to claim a scalp.

However, Clapton claimed possession and, after eight phases of play, James Hack scored in a corner for a converted try.

Wanstead led 15-0 at the break but tries from Luke Brewin (2) and Laurie Dobbin – after returning from a spell in the sin bin – had given Clapton hope of a bonus point.

But Hack's lkate try sealed a 22-18 win to move 14 points clear of third-placed West Norfolk.

Promotion secured – now title and revenge

Harlow's crunch home match can seal championship

East Men's Hockey League Division Six South East

Basildon 0
Harlow 4

HAVING secured promotion to Division Five South East, Harlow can wrap up the title with a home victory against second-placed Clacton seconds this Saturday.

Leventhorpe School will host the crunch match at 2pm, as Ben Light's men look to go 13 points clear with just 12 points to play for.

Harlow will be seeking to avenge their only defeat this season, away to the seashiders.

Skipper Light said: "The goals helped, but the whole team has been exceptional this year, working well together to give Andy [Boughtwood] the opportunity to score, and our solid midfield and defence.

"Everyone has played their part in helping us to get promoted and hopefully clinching the championship this weekend."

The comfortable win over Basildon Old De Ferrians sealed promotion with a month of the season left and was just reward for a fantastic campaign which has seen them score 63 goals and win 16 of their 17 games, losing just once.

Harlow's first goal came after neat build-up play in the midfield which culminated in the visitors being rewarded their first penalty corner of the match.

Top scorer Boughtwood unleashed a thunderbolt to the bottom corner.

Harlow's second again came from pressure in the midfield. With the defence pressing high up the pitch and with Basildon camped in their own half, the ball was neatly threaded through to Carl Chandler who acutely fired a shot at the keeper, and while this was saved, Boughtwood was on hand to smash in the rebound.

Harlow's third came via returning captain Light. The skipper – who hadn't played in over ten games because of injury – netted from a penalty corner.

Crunching

This time Boughtwood received the ball from Rhys Mace, and he slipped a pass to Light whose crunching shot slammed in off the inside of a post.

Harlow wrapped up their scoring with a couple of minutes left in the first half, as Boughtwood's pinpoint finish above the keeper into the roof of the net completed an impressive hat-trick.

The second half remained relatively uneventful with a few half chances going astray.

The Harlow defence, marshalled by Kim Harvey and Keith Johnson, meant the away goal was relatively untroubled.

Harlow sprint duo so close to English athletics final

Athletics

HARLOW Athletic Club's Mo Tamedou and Charles Tankeh were desperately unlucky in the English National Indoor Age Group Championships in Sheffield.

The sprinters missed out on the U20 60m final by fractions of a second, both clocking 7.05sec in their semi-finals.

The third qualifying spot was claimed with a time of 6.97.

Tankeh and Tamedou were second in their heats with 7.05 and 7.08 respectively.

Club-mate Shemar Boldiszar was fifth in the same heat as Tamedou, missing out on progress with a time of 7.28.

Harry Woodall was eighth in his heat in 7.52.

HAPPY: The Harlow AC youngsters

Will Snook, ran his first ever senior 800m, winning in 1min

56.27sec, some three seconds quicker than his nearest rival, in the Essex and Eastern Region Indoor Championships, held at Lee Valley Athletic Centre.

Beth Harryman claimed a sensational first place in the high jump, smashing her PB and raising it to 1.63m in the process.

She was sixth in the U17 long jump (4.83m).

Katie Champion was seventh in the U17 800m final in a new indoor best time of 2:36.84.

Polly Woods jumped 10.25m to take fifth in the senior women's triple jump.

Jordan Sheridan was second in the U17 triple jump, also setting a PB in the process (12.04m).

Owen Harknett was fifth in the 800m in 2:16.94 and twin Lewis was second in the 1500m in 4:42.23.

At U13 level, Regan Lawrence was second in the 200m final (28.94) and followed this up with third in the 60m final (8.61).

Debutant Marley Sarling was fifth in the 60m final (32.22).

The U20 men (Woodall, Boldiszar, Tamedou and Tankeh) all made the semi-final.

Woodall clocked 7.47, while Tamedou and Tankeh also qualified for the final.

In that final, Tankeh (7.04) edged out Tamedou (7.06) for silver and bronze respectively in a thrilling finish.

Boldiszar was controversially disqualified in the semi-final. However, he made up for this disappointment with a blistering display in the 200m, cruising into the final and then being edged into second.

Shane Dewar's winning time was 22.39, a mere seven hundredths quicker than Boldiszar (22.47).

DADSON WINGING IT TO PROMOTION

Wideman last scored this many goals as an U10 boy

by Alan Scott

alan.scott@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

JUNIOR DADSON has set himself a new goals target after reaching a tally he had last surpassed when he was playing youth football as an U10.

The 27-year-old scored a wonderful individual goal to give Harlow Town a crucial 2-1 lead in their 4-1 demolition of play-off rivals Thurrock in the club record-breaking 12th straight win on Saturday.

He now has 27 goal this term, including nine in his last ten appearances.

Considering he's spent most of the season on the right wing, he could reach 30 goals before the end of February, a phenomenal achievement.

He said: "I have never got 27 goals before - actually I think it was U10s the last time I got more than that."

"In competitive levels I haven't scored 27. My first season [at Harlow] I got 24. So I have broken my record now."

He has now revised his target and with potentially 15 games left, who's to say he could not smash through the 40 barrier.

"A month ago I was thinking I want to get 25, but the new target is going to be a bit higher. You always have to set a new target," he said.

"The new target will be 35 now. Usually if I set a target a little high, the least I get is just underneath. I'll just set it a little high, and in the next month or so I will set it higher again."

Dadson is just ahead of striker Alex Read (inset) in the goalscoring charts, who has 26.

"We travel to games together. We thrive on the same energy," said Dadson.

"Me and Alex, we pass to each other. There's no rivalry with each other, but if we can push each other to score more goals, long may that continue."

"It's all about that positive energy and getting those points on the board."

Dadson knows despite this remarkable run, Harlow could still be left in the play-off lottery once again. "For us as a team. We want to win the league but we are prepared for both. We will apply ourselves 100 per cent," he said.

Together

"It's the togetherness that's driving us forward. There's a mental strength and everyone is passing it on to each other. There's 11 captains on the pitch I feel. Long may that continue."

Harlow now face two tough away games in the next week: at Dereham on Saturday and Soham Town Rangers on Tuesday, but the winger says there's no reason they cannot keep winning. "We have shown that we have got great characters. It's that positivity. Chappo [Danny Chapman] and Tom [Cunningham] have instilled in the players that positivity just to keep going," Dadson said.

"Now I feel defenders are objects in my way. I just have to keep positive. If it doesn't work the first time, just go again and again and again."

ALL SMILES: Mario Noto and Junior Dadson (right) celebrate the third goal for the Hawks against Thurrock on Saturday

Boss' tribute as Hawks make history

BOSS Danny Chapman hailed his history-making Hawks after they took their place in the pantheon of brilliant Harlow Town teams with a club record 12th consecutive win on Saturday.

Harlow overturned a 1-0 half-time deficit to completely demolish their bogey team - they had never before won at home to Thurrock, or when the south Essex club were called Purfleet, in their history, either at The Harlow Arena or Harlow Sportcentre.

After an own goal right at the start of the second half, Harlow went on the rampage with three goals in a five-minute period from Junior Dadson, Alex Read and Mario Noto.

Harlow extended a feat achieved by the Isthmian League Division One winning side of the 1978-79 season, which won 11 games on the trot from the opening day of the campaign.

Chapman enthused: "It's testament to the players, physically and mentally, it is something quite special. It's nice to rewrite history. We have enjoyed that."

Mental strength

"It is nice to have a side that has won 12 consecutive games and to be in the club's history is something to be proud of."

"There's a real mental strength about this group of players."

"I know with the additions like Popey [Craig Pope], who I know was here last year, but with the likes of him, [Ibrahim] Sonko and Mario [Noto] as well, experienced players that have made a big difference to us."

The Harlow boss admitted he was disappointed with the side's first-half display, and he demanded more from his side in the second half.

He said: "First half, they [Thurrock] had one chance and they scored. I thought they defended really well."

In the first half we did not get as many crosses into the box. We wanted one more extra touch every time."

"I always felt if we scored one we could go on and win the game. Getting the goal right after half-time helped. I thought second half we were really good."
